REPORT OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

No contagious diseases were reported to the board of health for the year ending February 15, 1908.

We were requested by the school board to act with them in regard to the health of the children before the opening of school in the spring.

One case was reported by the selectmen at the mill of Littlefield & Reed, but upon examination it was found it was not a contagious disease.

Two permits were granted for the removal of the dead, Wilmer E. Nourse from South Stoddard to Bennington, N. H., Charles O. Messinger from Stoddard to Munsonville, N. H.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

Citizens of Stoddard:

The time for summing up the results of the past year's school work, and preparing for the coming year has again arrived. In combining the details and compiling the statistics of the report as required by law, the thought comes to mind, do we responsible citizens of Stoddard realize the value and importance, the far-reaching influence upon the character and reputation of the town, of our little schools? Do we make the best use of the opportunities afforded by them? The burden of responsibility falls upon the parents of the children to see that they attend constantly and faithfully, and upon the chosen officers of the school district in providing the facilities and enforcing attendance. There ought to be no need for exercising this authority on the part of the school board. Parents should feel that there is a community of interest, as it were, and leave nothing for a truant officer to do, or any cause for thinking he ought to have been employed.

The question is often being asked or suggested, are our country schools what they ought to be and are they equal to those of forty or fifty years ago? Let the readers of this investigate for themselves. With the advantages possessed by the schools of today,—better and free text books and unlimited supplies, there can be no question but they ought to be better. To make them better should be our aim and highest ambition.

The voters of the town and school district have generally been liberal enough in providing means for the maintenance of the schools, but there seems to be a lack of enthusiastic interest in them that ought to be manifest.

This is evidenced by the number of absent and tardy marks. And the school board has in the past found it extremely difficult to keep up the attendance near the end of the term, especially the fall term. It has sometimes appeared that children were kept or allowed to stay away from school for trivial causes. There may be some excuse for absence for the larger boy or girl needed to assist at home, but some sacrifice is needed in these cases. We would especially urge parents to encourage habits of punctuality in their children, thus fostering a desirable trait.

The lack of competent teachers all over the country is one of the hindrances to successful schools. Altogether, the school board were fortunate in this respect, the past year. In one instance the school was delayed two weeks before a teacher was found, but she proved to be a good one.

Two of the schools closed a little earlier than intended, as the teachers had secured winter schools to keep. Your school board feel that it will be necessary to pay a higher salary or wages to teachers, than has been the practice in the past, in order to secure those of experience or training. We again urge the passing of a vote to enable the school board to cooperate with school boards of other towns in forming a supervisory district as soon as practicable. This matter can be discussed in the school meeting.

Three schools have been maintained in town as formerly, during the past year, and D. E. Swett's children were sent to Sullivan at a cost of $3.00 per week, and one-half cost of fuel for the year. Tuition was paid in Marlow and Nelson, also. Henry E. Messinger was appointed truant officer, and George F. Reed agent of the school board to enumerate the children of school age. He reported a total of sixty-three, between the ages of five and fifteen, thirty-three boys and thirty girls. Mileage was paid to those living more than a mile and a half from school, upon the same basis as last year. The large number of tardy marks at the South Stoddard school may be owing to the conscientiousness of the teachers in reporting them. We have known teachers to overlook lateness in arrival to an unwarranted degree, so that the register was not a record of facts, as it ought to be.

A report of the schools in detail is as follows:

SCHOOL No. 1—(CENTER).

Mrs. Maude A. Page of this town taught both terms. She is an experienced teacher, and the town can be congratulated on having so good a one residing among us. There were twenty-six weeks of school in all. Twelve in the spring and fourteen in the fall, with thirty-one different pupils during the former and thirty-two the latter term. There were three pupils not absent or tardy in the fall and but one in the spring. Six visits were made by the school board and sixty by parents and others. Wages of teachers per month $30.

SCHOOL No. 2—(NEAR MR. JEFTS).

The same teacher as last year, Miss Sara E. Phelps of Marlow, taught both terms with most excellent results. The appearance of the school was always good, and the pupils seemed interested. She resigned two weeks before it was intended to close to accept a winter school in her own village. Each term consisted of twelve weeks, and the same number of pupils attended, eight different ones. Visits by school board seven, by parents and others, twenty-two. In the spring there were six on the roll of honor, and the same number in the fall. Cases of tardiness, seven. Wages of teacher per month, $22.

The schoolhouse in this division needs to be made a little more modern by the introduction of new desks. The present ones are relics of the Colonial days, and should make way for something more comfortable if a school is to be kept up here.

SCHOOL No. 3—(SOUTH STODDARD).

The spring term of twelve weeks was taught by Mr. Charles L. Peirce of Somerville, Mass. He is well fitted for teaching, having a love for children, and a born desire to assist others to acquire knowledge. If the pupils were only half as anxious to learn as the teachers are to have them, what wonderful results would appear. Alas! such is not the case. Very much improvement was observed, but with the opportunities offered more permanent results should have been obtained. Mr. Peirce secured the esteem of both parents and pupils, and it was much regretted that he could not be hired for the fall term.

Number of pupils, twenty-five. Not absent or tardy, one. Number of tardy marks, ninety-one. Visits by school board, five, by parents and others, twenty-seven. Wages of teacher per month, $31.

The fall term of thirteen weeks was taught by Miss Grace E. Macker of Uxbridge, Mass. The school board was late in finding her, but she managed the school with skill, and by close attention to her duties and ladylike ways, won the respect and affection of the pupils. The examination was very satisfactory. It is a somewhat singular coincidence that there was the same number of tardy marks as in the spring.

Number of pupils, twenty-seven. Visits by school board, three, by others, forty-three. None on the roll of honor. Wages of teacher per month, $31.

ROLL OF HONOR.

For the year—Leroy Pray, Lewis Pray, Ruth Everett, Gladys Mosher, Harold Everett, Archie Mosher, Almus W. Pollard.

For one term—Stella Mosher, Louis Pollard, Alice Jennings, Bernice Hale, Ethel Whippie.

Respectfully submitted by Cummings B. McClure, for
